Ideally, 2-3 people from your organization who worked on some part of your quality improvement this past year will attend; partnerships of front-line and management are suggested as they each provide great feedback from different perspectives.

Share, Show and Tell

Network partners are the best resource so we invite you to bring something for show-and-tell in small groups. Do you have something that inspired staff to work with data or on quality improvement? It could be a cartoon strip, a reflection process, a quote, tracking sheet, logic model or any number of creative tools. If so, please bring it (along with 20 copies, if applicable) to share. Don't have anything? No worries, come and discover ideas that may work back at your site, too.

Come together with Sprockets network partners for an interactive and fun morning of conversation, sharing, and learning.

This day is geared towards organizations who participated in all or part of the Sprockets Activator Improvement Cycle, worked with your own improvement process, or are interested in learning more about program improvement to start planning for fall.

Whether your improvement planning went great, or didn't work as you would have hoped, this event is for everyone who wants to continue to improve the quality of their youth programming.

Together we will

- Reflect on the past year's improvement cycle
- Share successes and struggles
- Generate ways Sprockets can better support programs to improve quality
